

ULTIMATE VICTORY IS FIRST AIM OF ALLIES

KING GEORGE SAYS U. S. LENDS STRENGTH.

PARLIAMENT IS PROROGUED

LONDON, February 7.—Parliament has been prorogued and will reassemble on February 12. In the house of commons the speech from the throne was read by the speaker. In it the king emphasized that the first aim and endeavor of the allies was the successful prosecution of the war. The entry of the United States, he said, lent additional strength to the allied arms and inspired fresh confidence in ultimate victory. The king said in part:

Text of King's Speech.

"My Lords and Gentlemen—Since I last addressed you great events have happened. Within a few weeks of that occasion the United States of America, despite the neutrality of their country, joined us in the war, for the cause of the principles of liberty and justice. Their entry into the war, following so long after our own, has united practically the whole civilized world in a league of nations against unscrupulous aggression, has lent additional strength to our cause, and inspires fresh confidence in the ultimate triumph of our cause."

"On the other hand, Russia, distracted by internal disorder, has been unable to persevere in the struggle until the fruits of great sacrifices could be reaped, and for the present has ceased to bear her part in the allied task.

Ambition Still Exists.

"The negotiations opened by her with the enemy have, however, served but to prove that the ambition which provoked this unhappy war is as yet undimmed. She still continues to add to the burdens of the other allies, but have not impaired the vigor and loyalty with which one and all continue to pursue the common cause. The confusion of changing events—the determination of the democracies of the world to secure a just and enduring peace—has not been lost upon her."

"In all the theaters of the war my naval and military forces have displayed throughout the year noble courage, skill, constancy and fixed determination, which has won for them the admiration of my people.

"In France the enemy has been repelled, and has been thrown back, and I await with assurance the further progress of the conflict.

"In Palestine and Mesopotamia the most advanced and far-sighted of the orient have been driven from the Turks, while in Africa the enemy has lost the last remnant of his colonial power. In India the combined forces of my dominions and of the Indian empire have borne their full share in the toll and in the glory of the day.

Called to War Cabinet.

"During the year representatives of my dominions and of the Indian empire were summoned for the first time to sessions of an imperial war cabinet. Their deliberations have been of the utmost value both in the prosecution of the war and in the direction of imperial policy."

"After thanking the house of commons for the liberality of its provisions for the heavy expenditure which was demanded by the approval of the representation of the people bill, the king expressed the hope that this bill would obtain the assent of parliament and subjects an effective voice in the government of the country.

"It will," he continued, "enable the nation, in units which have been so marked a characteristic of the war, to continue in the no less arduous work of reconstruction in the theater of peace. The result of this will, I hope, by agreement leads me still to hope that in spite of all the complexities of the problem a solution will be found in regard to the government of Ireland upon which a convention of the representatives of my Irish people are now engaged."

"The successful prosecution of the war is still our first aim and endeavor. I have watched with pride and gratitude the growing enthusiasm with which all sections of my people have responded to every demand made upon them for this patriotic work as well as the fine work which may yet be required to carry our efforts to fruition. I pray that Almighty God may vouchsafe to His blessing."

A Hohenzollern Telegram

AMSTERDAM, February 7.—Emperor William, in reply to a congratulatory message from the Berlin medical congress, sent this telegram:

"The rebuilding of the people's strength is almost the greatest achievement we have fulfilled during the execution of science and legislation and with the warm-hearted participation of all discerning people."

GUN EXPLODES: THREE DEAD

Captain and Two Privates Killed on Range at Ft. Sill.

LAWTON, Okla., February 7.—Captain Philip C. Christie, whose home is said to be Philadelphia, and two privates, Glenn S. VanDeveer and Jacques Barbeille, both of the 50th field artillery, were killed instantly when a French 75 gun exploded on the artillery range at Ft. Sill. Both were slightly wounded and injured seriously. The gun was being used in target practice. Captain Christie's body will be sent to Philadelphia for burial.

Privates Oliver Smith and Carl Anderson, Battery D, 9th field artillery, were injured, one severely, and recovered. They had the cavalry enthusiasm with which all sections of my people have responded to every demand made upon them for this patriotic work as well as the fine work which may yet be required to carry our efforts to fruition. I pray that Almighty God may vouchsafe to His blessing."

The six-inch guns are loaded with a heavy shell and then three bags of powder in a brass shell case. It is believed the charge exploded prematurely, blowing off the brass shell.

The gun was destroyed and the gun and barrel was killed instantly. Barbeille died on his way to the hospital and Captain Christie soon after reaching it.

PHILADELPHIA, February 7.—Captain Phineas C. Christie, a well-known young Philadelphia. He was a member of Princeton's champion football team of 1911 and received his military training at Ft. Niagara, N. Y., and Camp Meade, Md.

SHIP CONTROL BOARD.

Allies Accept Plan for Direction of Atlantic Shipping Operations.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—Acceptance by the allies of the plan to turn over the direction of all trans-Atlantic tonnage to a ship control committee, recently created, has been announced by Captain H. H. Wiley, the shipping board, with the assurance that this promises a complete unification of Atlantic shipping on behalf of the Allies.

Sir Franklin H. Raymond and Sir Connop Guthrie, was named at a conference of shipping interests and representatives of the allies. Sir Connop was selected to represent the countries to which the shipping board, with the assurance that this promises a complete unification of Atlantic shipping on behalf of the Allies.

Vice-Chairman Stevens, of the American representative, assisting on the other side in recommendations regarding the creation of ships from a general pool to be formed. An allocation of ships in the pool will be in the hands of the control committee.

Penny Like Doughnut.

"I want a doughnut." And taking it, he handed it to the girl. "This penny has a hole in it." Handing it to a still smaller coin, he said, "I want you to go into that shop and buy something with this penny."

Jimmie was quite willing. Entering boldly, he said to the girl, "This penny has a hole in it."

"So has the doughnut," announced Jimmie triumphantly holding it up.

The Two Chief War-Time Foods

Quaker Oats At 1/8 the Cost of Meat

Quaker Oats, measured by food units, is twice as nutritious as round steak. It supplies nutrition at a cost of five cents per 1000 calories.

Meats, on the average, cost eight times as much for the same food value. Eggs cost ten times as much. You can serve six dishes of Quaker Oats for the cost of a single egg.

The oat stands supreme among grain foods, in nutrition and in flavor. It far exceeds wheat in food units.

It is the energy food and the food for growth. It supplies every needed element in just the right proportion. It should be your basic food.

Quaker Oats is flaked from queen grains only—just the big, rich, flavorful oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel. So in this brand you get a wondrous flavor without any extra price. All oat foods are doubly delightful if made with Quaker Oats.

Quaker Best Corn Meal The Best 60% of the Corn

Next to oats in economy comes Corn Meal. We make an exquisite corn meal, and put it up in sealed round packages.

In Quaker Corn Meal we use the cream of the corn—about 60 per cent of the kernel.

The fibrous outer coat is removed, because it makes corn meal coarse. The oily germ is removed, because the oil grows rancid. Just the hominy part—yellow or white—is ground to make Quaker Corn Meal.

The result is superlative corn meal, yellow or white. The yellow looks like grains of gold—the white like marble dust. It makes bread and muffins, porridge, puddings and pancakes vastly better than any crude corn meal.

Get the Yellow or White in round packages with tops. See how good corn meal can be.
